For models with these options, do not leave balls and bats in the appropriate racks when the table remains outside.

Wind may make the table tip over, damage it or, more seriously, cause personal injury. Take the necessary precautions.

Risk of pinching whilst handling.

Do not use the crossbeam or legs as support when pulling the release over.

It is recommended that you use our protective cover, which will provide additional safety for your children.

On uneven surfaces, one or more legs may not rest on the ground. It is recommended that the table is moved to a more level surface or else wedge the legs.
